When: Week 8

Instructions for Students

1. Presentation Style

- You are required to deliver your presentation in the “Steve Jobs Style.”
- A snapshot explaining Steve Jobs’ presentation techniques is attached for reference.
- A simplified guide to Steve Jobs’ style is also attached for your ease.

2. Choosing a Topic

- A Steve Jobs-style presentation is not suited for every topic.
- It works best for introducing a new idea, perspective, or solution to a problem.
- For this presentation, you need to:
 1. Identify a problem (big or small) in daily life, our university, our city, or the world.
 2. Design a product, service, or solution that addresses this problem.
 3. Your presentation will act as the “launch” of your innovative solution.
 4. For reference, watch his video on the launch of the Iphone.

Important Clarification:

- This is not an elevator pitch.
 - You are presenting a product that has already been launched.
 - Focus on:
 - How the product works
 - Its unique features
 - Its benefits
 - Its real-world impact
- Think of this as showcasing a complete product, not just pitching an idea.

3. Pair Work

- This is a pair presentation.
- Each pair will present for 2:50 – 3:00 minutes.

4. Slides

- The number of slides is flexible. Use as many (or as few) as needed to fit within the 3-minute limit.
- Keep slides minimal, clean, and impactful (Steve Jobs style).
- Upload your slides to the GCR portal.

5. Preparation

- Announcement is being made today so you can start preparing immediately.
- You will also get 35 minutes in the lab for final preparation.
